Missy Schraeder is a speech language pathologist and Professional Developmental Coordinator at the DuBard School for Language Disorders at the University of Southern Mississippi (USM). Missy also serves as an adjunct instructor for the Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences at USM. She received her Master of Science from USM, and is a Certified Academic Language Therapist for Dyslexia, Qualified Instructor (CALT, QI). Since 2004, she has presented numerous well-received presentations on multi-sensory techniques for language therapy. Her interest in creating effective therapy techniques for children with dyslexia and related disorders has led her to conferences around the United States.

Learning Objectives:

- ❖ Multisensory techniques for teaching the National Reading Panel's Five Areas of Reading:
- ❖ Syllable types and division rules
- ❖ Using morphemes as a way of increasing vocabulary knowledge

Continuing Education

This course is offered for 1.0 ASHA CEUs (Intermediate Level, Professional Area).

The Mississippi Department of Education will award 1.0 CEUs of credit for this course. AL, AR, LA, MO, and TN must gain district approval for Continuing Education. Commercial products, materials, procedures, and opinions presented at the 2016 Ole Miss Fall Institute may reflect the viewpoint or approach of Missy Schraeder. They are not to be attributed to the University of Mississippi or the accrediting agency for whom we are a provider.
